DELAND-WELDON HIGH SCHOOL

Chris Edrington, Troy Shumard, and Kate Funderburk test their knowledge at Scholastic Bowl practice.

The Eagles

Deland-Weldon high

Although Deland-Weldon is not as big as other schools, the students that attend D. W. enjoy the small town life. With only fifty-six students, there is always an opportunity to excel. Our 1999-2000 yearbook will let you in on some of those opportunities.

Mary Voss, Chris Fry, Kacie Fink, and Valerie Cowser try their strength at a physical fitness event for general business class.

Randy Bennett study hard to earn the grade in English III.

Jessica Lester and Valerie Cowser are eager to learn more about Sociology.

D-W Students have one Question!

Who Said Our School Stinks?

All of the teachers at larger schools are calling for smaller classes. That is exactly what DeLand-Weldon has. Our school has a lot of very experienced teachers that are more than willing to come in early or stay late to help us better understand our assignments. Over half of our student body made either honors or high honors this school year. This goes to show that bigger does not always mean better.

We are seeing a rise in enrollment this year. The freshman class has 20 people in it this year compared with last years 13. Next year's freshman numbers look even more promising.

Derrick Roy, a Sophomore, takes a moment to pause for the camera before hurrying to his next class.

Judy Carr is our high school secretary. This school couldn't run without her dedication to helping in any way she can.

With all three of these important people working together, DeLand-Weldon High School is assured the best care and attention around. Every day students are able to count on this staff to provide them with everything from a pair of scissors to emotional support.

DeLand-Weldon

Administration

Tom Birge does double duty as both principal and superintendent.

These three work hard to keep our high school running smoothly.

Kris Fink is secretary in the superintendent's office. She also acts as unofficial school nurse, providing bandaids and TLC to anyone who needs them.

Assistant Coach Mr. Arenas

By Ms. Mac

Mr. Arenas joined us this year. He was a military officer for seven years before coming to DeLand-Weldon. He added a lot to our volleyball experience, unfortunately that included lots of sprints and long distance running. Mr. Arenas' favorite quote was:

“Smoke

Girl's Basketball

Girls Basketball Breaks Losing Streak!

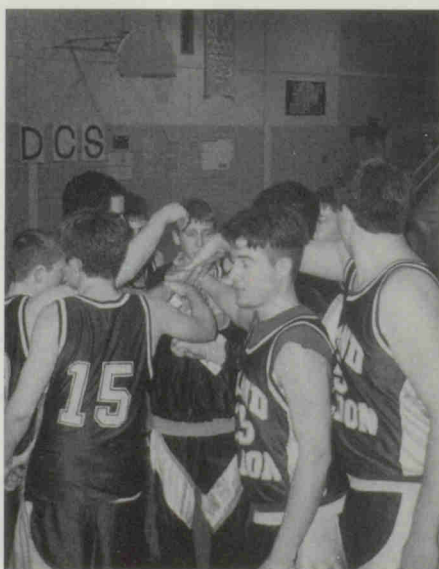

For five years the Lady Eagles did not win a game, but this year Paula, LaDonna, Jessica, Kate, Leslie, Courtney, Beverly, and Summer made this happen. Mr. Collins, the coach, has been a great inspiration this year to these girls. He says it takes courage, respect, discipline, resilience, determination, and a few other things to have fun and a winning season. Well, he was right. A combination of these things and those girls made for a winning season. Congratulations Girls!

Basketball

V A R S I T Y

This year was a new beginning for the basketball team. Last year's starting five graduated and we also got a new coach. So, we had a lot to get used to. But all-in-all, we had a lot of fun getting to know our coach.

We have learned a lot and the sophomores and juniors will be ready to come back next year and start the season off right. The graduating seniors want to wish them the best of luck with next year's season.

Our Coach Nina Westray and our Captain Kacie Fink are discussing what cheer should be done next. Keep up the good work!!

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders have worked very hard this year. We had a very good coach this year. Nina Westray was very dedicated and willing to help to schedule around all of our other activities. Kacie Fink was our captain this year and helped to make sure that everything was done on time. This year for homecoming we tried a few new things. We did the sexiest leg contest. We took pictures of the boys legs and voted a penny for the best looking legs. Andy Neathery was our winner for the sexiest legs. We also did rate the cheeleader's kiss but we had the boy's mothers come in and kiss them instead. We had one senior this year and I hope that she had a good year and a lot of good memories. I hope that the boys team and the cheerleaders all had a memorable year.

The cheerleaders show the balance and strength it takes to succeed.

Rodeos

Riding to Victory

Spring Leischner has been competing in rodeos for three years. She is actively involved in barrel racing, pole bending, breakaway roping, team roping, goat tying, and is currently running for Trailblazers Queen 2000. Spring is top five in pole bending in the state through hardwork, determination, perseverance, and dedication.

She enjoys traveling to the rodeos. Spring also enjoys meeting people with common interests at the rodeo. Spring first became interested in rodeos as a child because of her fascination with horses. She enjoys the thrill of showing off riding ability and roping skills in front of an enthusiastic crowd.

Spring on Sissy racing barrels at a High School Rodeo in Carthage where she placed first.

Spring with her rope for roping calves.

The Grand Entry in the Trailblazers Rodeo in Monticello where she competed in barrel racing.

Boy's Track

This year's boy's track team was coached by Mr. Waddell and included: Josh Westray, Mark Lubbers, David Zipprich, Chris Shultze, and Chuck Arnold.

Girl's Track

This year girl's track was a young team. Kacie Fink was the only Sophomore with the rest of the team consisting of Freshmen. Courtney Wilson, Jessica Blanchard, Kate Funderburk, Leslie Brevard, Bev Baker and Samantha Wallace all came out to show their talent to Coach John Baker this year. The team looks forward to growing together as a team over the next couple years.

While there they took in all the sights. They went to the Statue of Liberty, the United Nations building, the Empire State Building, and Radio City. When visiting the NBC studios some of them got to see Florence Henderson, the mother from "The Brady Bunch." They only spent two nights in a hotel. On Friday night at 11 p.m. everyone loaded back on the bus and headed home. By 2 p.m. Saturday they all got home in time to celebrate Easter with their families.

The Convention is a landmark in the history of children's rights. It is a statement of the principles that should guide the treatment of children. It is a statement of the rights that children should have. It is a statement of the responsibilities that adults have towards children.
